THE WORLD.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION (Including Postage), PER MONTH, 30c. ; PER YEAR, $3.50.

"The following comparison is an exact record of the actual, regular, bona-fide editions of THE WORLD printed during the week preceding and the week following the las

Week bef	ore election.	After election.
Sanday	267,360	265,590
Monday	262,510	265,540
Tuesday	257,060	259,560
Wednesday	258.660	317,940
Thursday	253,690	284,250
Priday	260,180	377,850
Baturday	256,050	203,070
Weekly and Semi-		21.00
Weekly	107,420	107,000

"We, the undersigned, the paper manufacturer cho supply the white paper used by the New York WORLD, hereby certify that we have carefully examined the above statement of circulation, and solemnly swear that it corresponds with the amount of white paper supplied by us, used by THE WORLD and charged up to them (in accordance with our method of charging THE WORLD EACH DAY ONLY THE PAPER ACTUALLY USED AND PRINTED) during the two weeks specified.

> BULKLEY, DUNTON & Co.. by David G. Garberant.
> York Haven Paper Co.
> Susquehanna Water-Power
> and Paper Co. AND PAPER CO.
> GLENS FALLS PAPER MILL CO.,
> by WM. B. DILLON, > Manager of Sales.
> W. H. PARSONS & Co.,
> by W. H. PARSONS.

Blate of New York, City and County of New York, ss.:

Personally appeared before me DAVID G. GARLBART, of Buikley, Dunton & Co.; WM. B. DILLON, manager of sales for the York Haven Paper Co., the Susquehanna Water Power and Paper Co. and Glens Falls Paper Mill Co., and W. H. Pansons, of W. H. Parsons & Co., who, being known to me, did append their signatures eto and swore that the foregoing statement is tru-sorrect. WILLIAM I. SHIMER, mer of Deeds, City and County of New York. New York, Nov. 19, 1887.

ADVERTISING RATES.

(Agate Measurement.)

Ordinary, 25 cents per line. No extra price for acceptable display. Business or Special Notices, opposite Editorial page, 50 cents per line. Reading Notices, starred or marked "Advi.": First page, $1.50 per line; Inside page, $1 ply to the Evening issue. Nor do the raise of that issue apply to the Horning Edition.

THE SUPREME TEST.

In the Standard Oil cases, now being heard at Washington, the Interstate Commerce Law and the Interstate Commission are themselves on trial.

This law was passed with the gross freight discriminations in favor of the Standard Oil Trust conspicuously in view. It was well known that such discriminations were the backbone of the monopoly. By its unjust advantages in the matter of transportation the Trust had been enabled to crush its competitors on every hand.

The law and the commission are therefore now put to the supreme test. The early workings of the commission were not such as to strengthen the public confidence. But it has now a chance to redeem itself by a vigorous grapple with the evils it was created to remedy.

If the present law and the present Commission are not strong enough for the task, they will have to make way for something that is.

THE PRESIDENT'S TURKEY.

It is appropriate that the President's Thanksgiving turkey should be a Connecti cut bird and " the cock of the walk." The festival of which the turkey has come to be the symbol is of New England origin. It was a President's proclamation that nationalized the day. The best turkeys are still raised in the land of steady habits, pure air and plenty of grasshoppers. Hence the Stonington bird, a thirty-pound beauty, will fitly grace the White House board.

And how much Mr. CLEVELAND has to b thankful for! Good health, a lovely home and a charming wife, the sure prospect-of a renomination, and no end of luck!

ALWAYS THE SPOTTS.

The entire Republican contingent of bosses and statesmen is now engaged in pipe-laying and wire-working for the possession or con trol of the offices of the Legislature.

Not an idea as to beneficent legislation, not a thought for principle is involved. It is a sheer scramble for spoils.

And the power to misrepresent and defraud the people, be it remembered, remains with these men because they have disfranchised thousands of Democrats by refusing a legislative reapportionment.

WRONG JOHN BRIGHT.

There is too much of John Bull in John BRIGHT to admit of his taking a just view of the Irish question.

When JOHN BRIGHT falls to storming at GLADSTONE and PARNELL as "rebels," the inference is that he is suffering from an attack of the gout.

The great Liberal of other days says of the great Liberal of to-day: "Mr. GLADSTONE stops the way." No, John BRIGHT, it is Enghish injustice and English pig-headedness that stop the way. When England is willing to concede to Ireland the right of local selfgovernment, other questions may come to Justice first; pounds, shillings and penc next.

NO LONGER TIMED. Senator SHERMAN'S notion that the Republicans lost the State because of "too much timidity" is way off.

They stayed at home by the 10,000 because their timidity is gone.

So long as the Republican shouters could work the "rebel scare" and the "tariff scare" and the "business scare" the timid voters turned out to "save the Government" over again and prevent things from going to the everlasting bow-wows.

But two years of unexampled peace and prosperity under Democratic rule have dispelled all these unworthy fears. The Republicans lost because there is no longer any scare in the discredited old spooks.

MERELY PRELIMINARY.

Secretary FAIRCHILD has done well in forcing the Castle Garden Commissioners to an accounting for the $70,000 or $80,000 received by them for the sale of privileges.

But this action touches only one side of the abuses of the present management. The protection of the immigrants requires something more than a reform in Castle Garden bookkeeping.

Mr. OREY's report doubtless affords ample basis for decisive action that shall go to the root of the evils. Secretary FAIRCHILD is probably withholding this for transmission to Congress, with a recommendation that the entire control of immigration be placed in the hands of the national authorities.

As an ultimate result Castle Garden will doubtless be reformed in the only way possible-by the grand bouncing of the stick tight Satraps.

THEY BEGIN TO SEE IT.

The Republican politicians in different parts of the country are accepting the unwelcome truth which THE WORLD told them on the morning after the late election,-that the defeat of their party in this State would prevent the renomination of Mr. BLAINE.

Several Illinois Republicans who have been interviewed on the subject show a decided disposition to "try somebody else." They do not want another defensive campaign. They don't think BLAINE can carry New York.

Unwelcome truths percolate slowly through the mind, but they generally "get there" at

THE BROADWAY SCHEMERS.

It behooves the defenders of Broadway to be on the alert from this time on. The L road schemers are particularly persistent just Commissioners are meeting to-day to decide how much they shall pay the city for the franchise. There are still barriers to the progress of the work, but the experts in legal ocus-pocus may spring a surprise on Father Knickerbocker almost any fine morning.

Moreover, there is a distinct malodor of corruption about this scheme. It has already shown its unmistakable features at Albany. Broadway is a tempting bait. Persistent vigilance and other provisions for rapid transit are the price of its safety.

THE ANTIPODES AWAKE.

A cable from 'Frisco to Yokohama Another to New Zealand, Samoa and Fiji! The Orient and the cannibal islands to come under the civilizing sway of electric submarine communication!

The City of the Golden Gate is beginning to realize her possibilities. The antipodes are awakening. The mere announcement of such a project gives us a new impression as to the Pacific hemisphere. Immersed in our own prosperity, we have overlooked the progressive movement in that section of the footstool, where the Orient meets the Occident.

Yes, give old Mother Earth her complete electric girdle. Then closer than ever will be the interests and sympathies of her chil-

It is remarkable how many "clerical errors" appear in the correspondence of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, charged with gross discriminations in freight charges in favor of the Standard Oil. By a strange fatuity the "errors" are all on the side of the monoply. It seems to be a very systematic carelessness.

What's the use of finding new indictments against BARNEY ROURKE, the Republican sub-boss who sold out his party's nominees in the recent election? That he engineered other frauds is very probable. But the beneficiaries of his "deal" are not likely to be very hard on BARNEY.

Citizen TRAIN hears the birds and the children calling him back to Madison Square and has abandoned his idea of expatriation. If this be madness, there's method in it. The handsome bronzed face and splendid gray mane will be welcomed back.

What's this ?--an ex-Confederate captain mustered in as Chaplain of "our own" and the only Seventh Regiment? Oh! where was FORAKER then? The cruel war seems to be over "intirely," so far as New York is con-

If M. GREVY were President of this Retune of $5,000,000, employs himself in cooking the public his continuation in office could not be made impossible by the "impossibility of finding a Cabinet to serve under him." The woods are full of Cabinet timber here.

The testimony taken by the Pacific Railroad Commission will comprise 4,000 printed pages. The essence of the report should be: Call STANFORD, HUNTINGTON, et al., into Court.

New Haven's "cholera scare" is not unlikely to be repeated in many other places next summer, and with a better reason, if the scattered germs are not mercifully killed.

DON DICKINSON doesn't intend to begin acting as Postmaster-General until he gets the appointment. He has probably heard the proverb : " There's many a slip," etc.

There are a good many child-marriages of late-that is, the union of a bride in her first childhood and a groom in his second.

Those who open their purse to-day will have a thanks-receiving as well as a Thanks-

DR. FULTON AND ROMANISM

BIDDEFORD AND SACO EXCITED OVER HIS SCATHING DENUNCIATIONS.

After a Narrow Escape from the Wrath of Mob He Returns and Gives Two More of His Lectures-Regarded as Too Much of an Enthusiast-High Feeling in the Maine Cities-What the Mayor Said and Did.

ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD, 1 BIDDEFORD, Me., Nov. 23.-Dr. Fulton, whose lectures against Romanism created such a sensation here last week and promised riotous demonstrations on the part of the Roman Catholics, returned to this city again Monday at the invitation of the Protestant clergymen of Biddeford and Saco. He spoke last night in Y. M. C. A. Hall. which was crowded to overflowing, on the Romanists ?" The Protestant clergymen of the two cities sat upon the platform and applauded the speaker's scathing denunciation of everything popish. There was quite a sprinkling of Catholics present, but there was no disturbance, a circumstance, no doubt, due to the fact that the Irish and French priests of the city warned their subject: "Is Romanism Good Enough for meeting and not to disturb the lecturer. There is undoubtedly a great deal of indignation among the Roman Catholics against Dr. Fulton, but it is fully equalled by the indignation felt against the Mayor of the city by many Protestants on account of his attitude towards Fulton and free speech. Not only did he refuse to protect the lecturer on the occasion of the riotous and menancing demonstrations of last week, but he declared to those who invoked his authority that he had just been hunting for a law by which to stop Fulton from speaking again, and that personally he would like to hire a man to kick the lecturer out of town.

The action of the Mayor in thus declaring against free speech undoubtedly influenced those who invited Dr. Fulton to return here this week. They were determined to test the question whether or not free speech was the right of a United States citizen in Biddeford. Since Dr. Fulton's return, however, the Mayor seems to have thought it wise to change his tactics and on Monday night and again last night after Dr. Fulton's lecture he was so attentive as to walk home with him.

was so attentive as to walk home with him.

Though there was no demonstration last night and no crowd in the vicinity of the hall, the police keeping the streets clear, there is a very deep undercurrent of anger against Fulton and his friends. One of the latter J. R. Libby, who owns the largest dry goods establishment in the city has been boycotted by the Irish and French Catholics. Last night Dr. Fulton referred to this boycott, and when he asked his audience to stand by the man who stood by free speech he was loudly applanded. Other boycotts are threatened. Fulton has the sympathy and co-operation

Fulton has the sympathy and co-operation of a large number of citizens, notably the evangelical clergy, but among the fair-minded and unprejudiced there is a convicion that he is altogether too sweeping in his charges of corruption against the Roman Catholic priesthood, and that his strictures on the confessional in its relation o Catholic women are overdrawn and unnec assarily offensive.

In short, in many quarters where there is no sympathy with Rome Dr. Fulton is regarded as a good deal of an enthusiast.

THE TWO PHILADELPHIA LEPERS.

No Definite Action Taken by the Board of Health-Offers of Assistance.

IMPECIAL TO THE WORLD. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23 .- The cases of the wo lepers, Mrs. Isabella Miranda and her daughter Anita, who are being well taken care of at the Municipal Hospital, came up before the Board of Health at noon yesterday, and all matters concerning the same were referred to the Sanitary Committee.

A letter was received from Inspector Taylor, who complained that Dr. Van Harlingen. the physician who had charge of the two cases, had declined to give him any satisfactory information when called upon officially. Health Officer Joseph G. Patterson wrote a letter to the board, detailing the visit of the lepers to the Health Office on Saturday and information received from Mrs. Miranda. and information received from Mrs. Miranda.

The matter will not be disposed of for some time, but it is the intention of the committee to see if they cannot gratify her wish and allow her to go to her children in Brazil. A committee of Grand Army men called at the office of the Board of Health yesterday and said they would do all they could for the unfortunate women. An unknown lady sent a package of books to the Health Office for the sufferers, and Dr. Ford said that proffers of assistance were coming from all sides. of assistance were coming from all side

WORLDLINGS.

David Dudley Fleid takes exercise at the age of eighty-two years by walking eight miles every day and riding horseback for an hour besides. Potter Palmer, the Chicago millionaire, was clerk in a country store in Ponnsylvania at a salary of $10 a month before he migrated West to the Lake City in 1857. While a well was being dug on the farm of An drew Sisson, near Swan Creek, Ill., the workmen dug up a petrified orange. It was found over forty feet below the surface. An insane man jumped from a Burlington and Missouri River train near Hastings, Neb: while it was running at the rate of thirty miles an hou recently, but escaped without injury. A nandsome little mink followed Mrs. Bennett of Paynesville, Minn., home the other evening and installed itself in the house. It is now as tame as a kitten and has become the household pat, Roland Nickerson, son of thelPresident of the First National Bank in Chicago and heir to a for-food for the 10,000 street car horses in the city. According to the report of Treasurer Byatt there is still ou standing $15,322,902 of the obsolete fractional currency, nearly all of which is supposed to have been destroyed, lest or placed in collections. One of the thrifty negroes of Georgia is the Rev Alexander Baker, of Abbeville, who has made $20,000 s nce he gained his freedom. He is seventy-six years old and is the father of twenty-one

During a snowstorm at Akron, O., a few days ago the air was so heavily charged with electricity that the telephone operators at the central exchange were severely shocked, two of them being utterly prostrated.

"Old Sorrel," Stonewall Jackson's famous war horse, has been stuffed by a Washington taxidermist, and will be preserved by the veterans of the Robert E. Lee Camp, at Richmond, in memory of the great commander A large white oak tree, owned by T. T. Hilburne, at Vernon, Ala., is one of the botanical curiosities of the State. Half of the foliage of the tree is yellow all summer and autumn and the other half is always a dark green. A preacher in Fleming County, Ky., borrowed a

Somewhere in the suit there was a deck of cards which the owner of the clothes forgot to take out, and while the parson and his convert were in the water the cards began to float around them, to the great amazement of the spectators

MRS. POTTER'S COMPANY REDUCED.

seven Players Dismissed Because the Public Does Not Like " Mile. de Bresste

Most people who saw the play, "Mile. de Bressier," at the Fifth Avenue Theatre wonlered how Mrs. Potter and Mr. H. Clay Miner could have produced such a monoto nous and dreary work. Mrs. Potter, it is said, was not anxious to make her first appearance in the play. Mr. Miner desired that she should, however, and she did. Now the play is to be withdrawn from the répertoire, and the consequence of that move repertoire, and the consequence of that move is that Miss Minnie Monk, Miss Genevieve Lytton, Miss Maida Craigan, Mr. Kenneth Lee, Mr. Fred, W. Sydney, Mr. Leslie Allon and Mr. J. F. Hagan have been dismissed.

"You see," said J. Barton Key this morning, in his popular haw-haw manner," Mr. Miner—er—didn't want to pay these people—er—for walking about the streets—er—as he has been doing. You see—er—the public didn't like 'Mile, de Bressier!' The advance sales—er—in New York—er—or Brooklyn—er—and in Newark—er—show that 'Loyal Love' is—er—wanted."

"What about the royalties you pay to Col. Urquhart on 'Mile, de Bressier?"

"Pooh!" exclaimed Mr. Key, with delicious scorn, "They were—er—a mere trifle of five per cent. In 'Loyal Love'—er—we pay six per cent—yes, sir, six per cent.—to T. Henry French. So—er—you readily perceive that royalties—er—have nothing to do with our decision. The fact of the matter is—er—that I only engaged these people for 'Mile, de Bressier.' Why should we keep them when the play—er—goes on the shelf? They have two weeks' notice—er. That is all the de Bressier.' Why should we keep them when the play—er—goes on the shelf? They have two weeks' notice—er. That is all the contract calls for."
"Why dismiss Miss Craigan, who plays in flocks last Sunday to keep away from the

"Hoyal Love?"
"Well—er—to tell you the truth, the part is such a small one that I don't—er—believe Miss Craigan would care to play in it. She only has four lines to speak."

It is probable that Mrs. Potter will put "Romeo and Juliet" or "Lady Clare" in rehearsal shortly. rehearsal shortly.

HARVARD READY FOR THE FRAY. Six Hundred Pollowers of the Crimean P Route for New York-In Good Form.

ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD.1 Boston, Nov. 23.-Over four hundred en thusiastic Harvard students and graduates stood out in the mud on Jarvis Field yester. day afternoon to watch their eleven play the last practice game of the year preparatory to leaving for New York. The team played with a snap and vim that promises well for the result of the game with Yale to-morrow. Sears appeared on the field for the first time since the Wednesday game, and went through the second eleven rush-line with his old-time style and vigor. Harding fairly out-did himself in dodging and running, and the old-time style and vigor. Harding fairly outdid himself in dodging and running, and the rush-line was almost impregnable.

The team leave for New York this morning on the 11 o'clock train, and will stay at the Windsor while in New York.

Harvard will pit the following eleven against Yale's giants Thanksgiving Day; Cumnock, left-end rusher. Woodman, left tackler; Wood, left guard; Markoe, centre rush; Traffard, right guard; Butler, right tackler, and Bancroft, right-end rusher; Harding, quarter-back; Boyden and Porter,
half-backs; Sears, full-back; Appleton, Saxe, Perry, Nichols, Churchill, Noble and Piper, substitutes.

Bets are made freely at odds of 5 to 4 on Yale, and there are about $2,000 upon the result of the game already. Three hundred students leave for New York on the Fall River line boat to-night, and about the same number will go on by rail to witness the greatest struggle that has ever been known for the intercollegiate championship of America.

TEEMER WANTS TO ROW BUBEAR.

He Visits Keenau, His Backer, in Boston Surprised at McKay's Victory.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] Boston, Nov. 23.-John Teemer, the cham plon oarsman, arrived in this city at 3 p. M. yesterday, just in time to see the finish of the race between McKay and Conley. Teemer told an Evening World reporter that the object of his visit was to meet James Keenan, of this city, one of his backers, and who stands ready to back the McKeesport man against any oarsman in the world. The who status ready to back the increesport man against any oarsman in the world. The champion is very desirous to row Bubear, the English champion, for the Sportsman cup, and it was on account of the latter's recent challenge that Teemer is here to see Mr.

Keenan.

In speaking of yesterday's race the McKeesport man said that McKay's victory was a surprise to him in some respects, but he says that he has been aware all summer that the present year has been an off one for Conley. "I think," said Teemer, "that this accounts in a measure, at least, for the extent of McKay's victory."

Teemer will remain in town a day or two before leaving for his home.

Flushes of Fun from the "Weekly Comics" Published To-Day.

QUITE KNOWING. [From L(fe.] Charles-She's pretty, but she doesn't know any-Evelyn-On, yes she does; she knows she's ACROSS THE RIVER.

[From L(fe.] Comstock—Is this heaven? St. Peter—Yes. Comstock—Well, I have a warrant against your laster for allowing people to be born naked. AN INTRODUCTION.

[From Judge.] Hedgeley (who has stood it as long as he can)— You remember old Admiral Lushem, Miss Gram-ercy? Yes? Well, this is Lieut, Lushem, his great-great-grandcalld. You'll get along famoually togother.

CONDESCENDING, [From Judge.] She (an excellent waitzer, to awkward partner, whose feet seem to be everywhere but in the right place)—Dear me, Mr. D'Elefant! how awkward I am. Always getting my feet in your way.

D'Elefant (with condescending consideration)—

Pray-don't mention it. TRICES IN EVERY TRADE.

[From Life.] Johnny (from Boston)-Sister, never purchase Sister (with alacrity)-No, Johnny, I never will. But why?

Johnny-Because he expectorates on his apples SO AWFULLY DEFORMED.

Gus-Aw-er-yes, Cholly is re-chawming fel-ah, but he is so awfully defawined, y'know, Willie-Poor fellahl What's the matter with him?
Gus-Why-er-aw-y'know, his mouth is so awfully small-er-he cawn't get his lips over the er-head of his cane!

[From Judge.] Mamma—If you'll have your French lesson abso-ntely perfect to-night I'll make you a big angelcake.

Einel—That will be nice, mamma; and while you Einel—That will be nice, mamma; and while you are about it you might make a medium in case I make one or two little mistake. PRMININE PELINITY.

A DIPLOMATIC SCHOLAR.

[From Judge.] Mignon—How awfully fortunate you are, Madge! I wish I could enjoy a party without having to dance all the time.

Madge (who has been wall-flowering)—It must be tiresome, dear. I notice your last three partners went to the amoking-room just as soon as the music stopped. TENDER INQUIRIES FOR PRATHERLY.

[Free Pack.]

Dumley—Featherly, I heard Miss Clara inquirng after you very tenderly, the other day.

Featherly (delighted)—She wanted to see me ugan? nley-Yes, I understand from her that the hall-bedroom in the attic was unoccupied.

Featheriy. The hall-bedroom in the attic T Dumley. Yes. site said you might as well be where your trunk was. Is that collar celluloid, Featheriy?

PLAYS WITHIN THE PLAYS.

A DIVERSION BY DE WOLF HOPPER CREATED ENTIRELY INVOLUNTARILY.

His Emboupoint Saddenly Reduced by the Collapse of an Air Pad-Mr. William Gillette Given a Lesson in Acting by Little Ollie-Future Plaus for Wallack's-'The Highest Bidder" a Hit in Boston.

ly involuntarily, and even now he cannot enjoy the recollection of it. In " Bellman " the comedian wears an enormous stomach, which is made of a large inflated pad beneath the dress. Mr. Hopper's remarkable embonpoint has often been noticed. That is how it was produced. At the end of the quintet, in which he participates with De Angelis, Harry Macdonough, Mrs. Laura Joyce Bell and Miss Annie Myers, he that to throw himself on the ground. As a rule, Mr. Hopper saves himself from injury by a judicious tise of his hands. On this occasion his hands failed. He fell on his stomach, full weight-and Hopper is not a feather. The large inflated pad burst with a noise like a dynamite bomb, and Mr. Hopper in dismay rushed off. The people on the stage had great difficulty in proceeding. They were convulsed with laughter. Mr. Hopper reappeared, his clothes hanging limply over the void where once a stomach had been. The audience be-came aware of the mishap, of course, and the laugh, for once, was against the comedian.

Little Ollie, the charming "maidenette" who played in "Editha's Burglar" recently at the Lyceum Theatre, was busily engaged yesterday in rehearsing the piece with William Gillette, who is to play it with her on the road. Now, Mr. Gillette was new to the piece and Miss Ollie wasn't. She appreciated that fact, and it was amusing to hear her with the big actor. "What is your name?" asked Mr. Gillette, reading his part. "My name is Editha," lisped the child. Mr. Gillette closed his book. "You should say E-ditha," he corrected. "It isn't Editha." "Yes it is," declared Miss Ollie: "I've always said Editha and I think it sounds much better. I shall always say it." Mr. Gillette submitted to the inevitable and "Editha" it was. Then Miss Ollie protested that she would wear this and wouldn't wear that, or had done this and hadn't done that in a most bewildering manner. She had a mamma with her and what she couldn't remember her mamma distinctly recollected. Between the two Mr. Gillette was a nonentity. was a nonentity.

Rehearsals of "Forget-me-not" are under way at Wallack's, and the play will in all probability be produced next Monday night, although no announcement to that effect has been made. The last performance of the play in this city took place a year ago at the Star Theatre, when Miss Genevieve Ward made her farewell appearance in this country. "School," which has not proved remarkably essful, now alternates with Manager Daniel Frohman returned from Manager Daniel Frohman returned from Boston yesterday where he went to witness the opening performance of Ed Sothern in "The Highest Bidder." There was an air of bland complacency on Mr. Frohman's face, for the result of the opening at the Hollis Street Theatre was that arrangements are now being made to continue the engage-ment. Sothern has made a hit in the Hub, it is evident is evident.

There is some talk of organizing promenade concerts at the Academy of Music next sum-mer at popular prices. It is well known that the floor of the Academy can be laid over the seats when it is necessary to use the place as a ballroom.

Mme. Modjeska, who, as has already been stated, goes to Russia next season, will play for one week at the Fourteenth Street Thea-tre in this city next February. The usual répertoire will be given. The dramatization made for Mrs. Langtry by Messrs. Jessup and Townsend calls for a "heavy" production. It is said that Mrs. Langtry will try it in Chicago in January. "A Run of Luck," which was put on in Boston, has not proved a run of luck to the managers of the Boston Theatre. It was to have been continued up to the holidays, but will be withdrawn next week in favor of a re-vival of "The Old Exiles."

De Mille's' "Main Line" is being played this week at the large Academy of Music in Brooklyn, with Miss Etta Hawkins in the leading part, and at the California Theatre, San Francisco, with Miss Kate Forsythe pre-dominating

Thanksgiving Matinces. FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE—The Begum. ACADEMY OF MUSIC—A Dark Secret. UNION SQUARE THEATRE—The Henrietta. Thind AVENUE THEATRE—Inshavogue. TONY PASTOR'S—Jubilee Show. LYCRUM THEATRE—The Wife. MADISON SQUARE THEATRE—The Martyr. HARRIGAN'S PARE THEATRE—Pete. GRAND OPERA-HOUSE—A Parlor Match. CASINO-THE MAIQUIS. FOURTBENTH STREET THRATHE-The Old Home stead.

BLIOU OPERA-HOUSE—Conrad the Corsair.
WALLACK'S—Caste.
DOCKSTADER'S—The Black Paust.
EDEN MUSEE—Concert.

Stopping-Over in Town. W. F. Putman, of Exeter, N. H., is at the Astor Col. S. J. Tilden, jr., is registered at the Windsor.

Gov. P. C. Lounsbury, of Connecticut, is again a guest of the Murray Hill Hotel. Col. John Murphy, a prominent manufacturer of Lancaster, Pa., is a guest at the Grand Central. United States Senator M. C. Butler, of South Parolina, registered at the New York Hotel last evening.

At the Victoria are Col. De Lancey Ployd-Jones,
U. S. A., and ex-United States Marshal Clayton McMicaach, of Philadelphia.
Prominent among recent arrivals at the Hotel Brunswick are G. M. Huston and family, of Baltimore, and James McShane, of Montreal.

Frank Hurd, Obio's free-trade ex-Congressman, is at the Hoffman House, as is also H. S. Biood-good, a prominent society man and crack shot of Providence, R. I. Two prominent railroad men now staying at the Murray Hill are Win. P. Shinn, Vice-President of the New York and New England Railroad and Gen. G. W. Bently.

James Tillinghast, of Grand Central fame; Gen. J. T. Torrence, of Chicago, and J. E. Kingsley, proprietor of the Continental Hotel, Philadelphia, are among the arrivals at the Windsor. Secretary of War William C. Endicott, J. W. Pase, of Richmond; Charles M. Reed, of Erie, and Senator Theodore C. Bates, of Worcester, Mass., are recently registered at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. This is ex-Governors' day at the hotels. Ex-Governor John Lee Carroll, of Maryland, is at the Hotel Brunswick; ex-Governor A. O. Boura, of Rhode Island, at the Victoria; ex-Governor Rufus B. Bullock, of Georgia, at the Pith Avenue Hotel, and ex-Governor Andrew G. Cartin, of Pennsyl-vania, at the Everett House, HIS FORGERIES WERE CONDONED.

George Whitworth, After His Pardon by lestou Firm, Becomes a Swindler. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

Bostos, Nov. 23.-Mr. John C. Rand, o the Rand-Avery Company, Franklin street, received word from England a few days ago that his firm was being represented in Liverpool by a concern known as " A. Ferguson & Co.," and that Mr. Ferguson had used the name for fraudulent purposes.

Mr. Rand learned that Ferguson was a young man named George Alfred Whitworth. who had been arrested in Boston for forging orders on the Rand-Avery Company. He was engaged as a canvasser and attempted to make his commissions large by forging the names of several business men. When arrested he offered the plea of necessity in mitigation, and when the police officers investigated the case, they found that Whitvestigated the case they found that Whitworth and his family lived in a room on Dover street in abject poverty. He said he had been disowned by an aristocratic father because he married below his station. Mr. Rand was instrumental in having him released. The forgery was condoned and a sum of money was raised to clothe the unfortunates and send them back to England.

Soon after his arrival there Whitworth appeared as trader and advertised largely for help, hiring a number of clerks, who were called upon to make deposits as a guarantee help, hiring a number of clerks, who were called upon to make deposits as a guarantee of their honesty. They were kept busy in attending ostensibly to the Rand-Avery Com-pany's business. Soon after they had been engaged, however, Ferguson disappeared, and the victims are now writing to America

CHEFS MAKING MERRY.

A Twenty-four Course Dance at Tamman

Hall by Artists of the Cuisine. Here are some of the names of the chefs who went through with a twenty-four course dance last night at the ball of the Cooks' and Pastry Cooks' Association at Tammany Hall. The partner of each had a copy of President Silverbrandt's cook-book in her hard and an elaborate programme strung from ler waist. Ferdinand Fère, fl. E. McAuley, HenriGerman, John Panza, Engene Geaquin, Bellevie Hotel, Philadelphis; W. W. Baynom, Glob Hotel, Altona, Pa.; R. H. Silverorandt, Lamber Club; Ernest Deer, Calumet Club; Louis Stradella, Park Avenue Hotel; Achille Lentz, of Delmonico's in Beaver street; Adolph Jaegiin, Tuxedo Restaurant; Jules Cheneau, Calumet Club; Salvatore Lamanna, Hotel Royal; Charles Lamanna, Cassmonic Hotel, St. Augustine, Fls.; John Lamanna. St. George's Hotel, Brooklyn; Gustave Dime, Clarendon Hotel, Brooklyn; Joseph Zemon of the Societé Hyguetque; Benjamin H. Tucker and Plummer Cooper, C the Hotel Madison. Ferdinand Fère, fl. E. McAuley, Henry German, ohn Panza, Eugene Geaquin, Bellevie Hotel, Hotel Madisor

There were present from the Chimney tor. ner Club

President E. Alexander, Treasurer John Kutz, Secretary Baynom, Capt. Joseph Emerich, Vie-President Harry Brown, H. T. Starin, Charls Anderson, Thomas Bower, Miss Emma Raymont Miss Radder, Mrs. John Kurtz, Mrs. Opheli Mead, Mr. Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. Craig, Edward Parmelee and Joseph Armstrong. NEW YORK'S OLDEST POLICEMAN.

Dick Eldridge, who Worked Up the Helen Jewett Murder Many Years Ago. The police pension roster, just completed, gives the name of Richard S. Eldridge as the oldest living policeman. Eldridge is now in his eighty-seventh year, and was a policeman when New York showed little evidence of prosperity above Fourteenth street.

It was Dick Eldridge who worked up the celebrated Helen Jewett murder case which was one of the case which was one of the great police mysteries of the early part of the present century, and so convinced did he be-come of the identity of the guilty person that he arrested Robinson, the young swell, who was the friend and admirer of the beautiful

Headquarters three times a year-on pension and ill-fated Helen Jewett.

The old man draws his $600 a year pension, and his bent frame is seen regularly at Police

THIEVES DESPOIL A CORNER-STONE. An Outrage Discovered at the New Webl Memorial Chapel at Madison, N. J.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] Madison, N. J., Nov. 23.—The corner-stone of the new Webb Memorial Chapel here was robbed of its contents some time between Saturday night and yesterday afternoon. The chapel is being built by James A.

Webb, the well-known alcohol dealer in Pearl street, New York, in memory of his son, James A. Webb, jr., who died a few months ago. The corner-stone was laid a week ago last Saturday.

There is a good deal of indignation felt here that the feelings of the family should be so outrayed.

so outraged.

Tugboat and Lighter on Fire. Fire was discovered in the engine-room of the tugboat George L. Hamond at Pier 48 North River. about 1 A. M. to-day. The lighter Andrew Meader, ying at the same pier, soon caught fire and for few moments there was a prospect of a costly blaze. The crews of neighboring craft were piped on deck, haw-ers were cut and there was a general scurry to reach mid-stream, beyond the range of the flames. The firemen, however, soon had several streams of water directed on the two vessels and deluged the flames on both the tug and lighter. In less that half an hour thereafter the fire was extinguished. The losses are about $1,000.

A Montana Cowboy Trazedy.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 28. -Two cowboys, William Lang and Frank Lewis, while camped on Fly Creek and Frank Lewis, while camped on Fig Creek Reservation, Mont., became engaged in an altercation. Lang pulled a pistol and shot at Lewis, the ball passing through his hat. Lang said: "I will kill you before morning." Lewis went out, plokeded his horse and, returning, stepped to the wagon, re-moved his rifle and shot Lang dead at the camp fire. The murderer gave himself up.

A Hole That Beer Won't Pill. William Welsh was before Justice Patterson a the Essex Market Court this morning.

"You are charged with being drunk," said His Honor.
'I have a hole in my head that I got at Cold Harbor," was the reply, "and if you let me go I'll iarbor," was the reply, "and if you let me go I'll ever come here again." "You can never fill that hole with beer," said the magistrate, as he tore the complaint,

A New Yorker Killed Coming Home.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
NEW BRUNSWICE, Nov. 23.—William Bodensteino, of 240 East One Hundred and Twentyourth street. New York, was killed by the newspaper train going west at Robinvale this morning. The body was foun; at 5 a. M. by a track walker and was taken to the McDede Morgue in this city. The man had just received a letter from his wife and was walking to the nearest railroad station to take a train for home when he was killed.

Mr. Ross Wants His Overcont. of 32 Broadway, wants his overcoat. He will pay $25 and ask no questions for the return of his coat, which was stolen from him at the Stevens House restaurant recently. The cost contained a bank deposit and a number of checks.

Thanksgiving Cheer.

At close of business hours to-day, in accordance rith their annual custom, Mesers. Simpson, Crawford & Simpson, Sixth avenue and Nineteenth atreet, will present each of their employees, num-bering between eight and nine hundred, with a turkey for Thanksgiving.

Secretary Begart's Expulsion. United Labor party organization of the Eighth District has appointed a committee quire into the expulsion of Secretary Bogart from

THE MANCHESTER MARTYRS

TRUE IRISHMEN WILL HONOR THEM IN COOPER UNION TO-NIGHT.

Dr. McGlynn and "Richellen" Robinso will Talk of the Circumstances Which Led to the Execution of Allen, Lurkin and O'Brien-Fenian History with Which O'Donovan Rossa Had Nothing to Do.

This evening the anniversary of the execu. tion of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien-the three Manchester martyrs-will be duly observed by Irishmen all the the world over. In this city the men and women of Irish birth will assemble in Cooper Institute and hear Dr. McGlynn rattle his toothsome chestnuts from the platform from which, a few minutes later, "Richelieu" Robinson will delight the audience with his inimitable act of twisting the British lion's tail.

Very few of the present generation who tomorrow will read the reports of these celebrations are acquainted with the history of the event commemorated. Just after the failure of the Erin's Hope expedition, the history of which was recounted in a recent issue of the Sunday World, the broker ranks of the Irish Nationalists were reformed. and, with that indomitable perseverance and hope characteristic of the Irish race in their centuried struggle against wrong, the move-ment was put in operation on English soil itself.

In September of 1867 Col. Thomas J. Kelly left Dublin to attend a council of the Fenian Brotherhood in Manchester. In company with a Capt. Deasey he strolled through the town, and the detectives soon arrested him town, and the detectives soon arrested him as a suspicious character.

Col. Kelly was one of the organizers of the Fenian invasion of Canada in 1888. After the failure of that attempt he went to Ireland and organized the rising of the year follow-ing, he having supplanted Stephens in the control of the national movement. That rising was another miserable flasco, but it had given England much trouble and Kelle. rising was another miserable flasco, but it had given England much trouble, and Kelly was a man whose arrest was especially desired. His identity was disclosed while under arrest, and the next day, Wednesday, Sept. 18, a formal commitment was made out against him and his companion.

But the news of the arrest and the knowledge that both were to be committed spread quickly over town and the Fenians immediately conversed and took proposed and quickly over town and the Fenians immediately convened and took steps to rescue the prisoners. About 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the day of their committal Kelly and Deasey were transferred from the court to the prison van under the escort of twelve policemen. On the way to Salford Jail, on the Hyde Park road, near Bellevue, a force picked from the Fenian circles of Manchester stopped the van and carried off their com

Constable Brett, who was inside the van, reconstable brett, who was made the vall, re-lied on the door to withstand all attacks and refused to give up the key in his possession. One of the Fenians fired obliquely through the keyhole with the intention of breaking the lock, but Brett happened to be looking the keyhole with the intention of breaking the lock, but Brett happened to be looking ut at the time to ascertain the strength of a attacking party and the ball entered his bdy, killing him almost immediately.

Ine of the prisoners handed out the key though the window. The door of the van was unlocked and the two Fenians were placed in care of a few friends. A crowd gathwed around the little band, but the prisoners escaped, although five Irishmen were aft as hostages in the hands of the police, who were soon upon the scene. The names f the captives were William Philip Allen, tichael Larkin, Michael O'Brien, Thomas Maguire and Edward O'Meagher Condon. They were tried under the same indictmen, convicted of murder and sentenced to k hanged.

A reaction public sentiment soon set in and Magul, was pardoned and Condon reprieved. He latter is one of the prominent Irishme in New York to-day, and was the organizer the demonstration held in this city on the day f the Queen's Jubilee to honor the memories of the thousands of the Irish people murders during the reign of Queen Victoria." Unphyludiced people can see no reason, except te satisfaction of public clamor, why Aller Larkin and O'Brien were not also pardoned w reprieved. They were tried on the same carge, judged on the same testimony, and if wo were innocent the other three must alshave been guiltless.

Allen protested his nocence before Judge and jury and declare that no one more than he regretted Constablighett's death. "I do not say this for the sak of mercy." Said he in court. "I want nomercy: I'll have no mercy; I'll die, as manyhousands have died, for the sake of my nate land, and in defense of it."

The five men then sterned beek from the mercy; I'll die, as manyhousands have died, for the sake of my nate land, and in defense of it."

The five men then steped back from the dock, lifted their eyes teheaven and in a firm voice shouted in the son the words: "God save Ireland." Thi scene has been made the theme of Ireland. Sational anthem. The words were written byT. D. Sullivan, the proprietor of the Dublination and the Weekly News, and the present ord Mayor of Dublin. His name figures of a in the cable despatches and will live with as song while the Emerald Isle rests in the art of the Atlantic. Here is the chorus:

"God save Ireland," said the sacres.

"God save Ireland," said the sali "Whether on the scaffold high, or the battle-field we die, Oh, what matter when for Erin dear, fall!"

The morning of the execution f Allen.

Oh, what matter when for Erin dear, fall. The morning of the execution f Allen, Larkin and O'Brien, just twenty Nars ago to-day, was cold and foggy. All preantions had been taken against rescue, and to Seventy-second Highlanders were drawn cound the scaffold with bayonets fixed. Fir. and dauntless as ever, the three patriots we, led to the scaffold. Nothing in their manna betrayed the fact that they knew their tin on this earth was limited to a few minutes. They embraced each other tenderly and quaed not at the hangman's touch. Their sols were speedily sent to eternity, but the name and their fame remained as inspiration to Irishmen.

He Draws the Line at Cabbages. to the Editor of The World:

Referring to your morning issue of yester day, and an article therein headed "Mr. Johnson and the Cabbages," you will permit me to remark: A careful scrutiny of the register of this hoately for the time contemporaneous with the cubbage catastrophe evidences the fact that I was the only Johnston stopping here having the initials C. A.

My branch of the Johnson family have always drawn the line at the T. We have paralleled that sestheticism as to vegetables, and when the cabbage family comes in we draw the line at earlinower. If your reporter had made the case against Johnston instead of Johnson, and the crime had been caulinower instead of cabbage, I might come in.

My attention was attracted to this matter yesterday by one of the proprietors of the hotel, not by Mr. Feacock, but by Mr. Smith. Please get that right—not Smythe—but Smith. He knew I was neither Johnson, nor Mr. Johnsing, nor venerable, nor particul riy old, nor specially prejudiced in favor of cabbages, and why he should have tackled me, except to prove in allol for some member of his ancient and numerous family, I do not know.

No: If the cabbage was of the Hoffman House, he was proprietor instead of guest, and Smith Instead of Johnston. Yours, very respectfully, Hoffman House, Nov. 22. C. A. Johnston. day, and an article therein headed "Mr. Johnso

P. S.—Eleven Molly Maguires were hanged at Pottsville, June 21, 1887. J. N. M.—You will find the first mention of gold in the Bible in Genesis ii., 11.

C. E.—' Please inform me of the exact date of the death of the Prince Imperial in Zuzuland." He was killed June 1, 1879.

He was killed June 1, 1879.

M. A. R.—On what day of the week did Oct. 20, 1871, fail ? Friday. Consult The World Al-Manac, price 25 cents. What is the population of the United States? About 60,000,000. See the same interesting publication.

C. O. B.—The minute variation in the length of a degree of intitude at the equator and the poles is caused, or supposed to be caused—no one knows anything about it—by the supposed natening of the carrin at the poles. The degrees of intitude are there marked, as you will readily observe, On a plane surface, not a curved surface, and the difference is the difference in length over a hill and through a hill, or between an are and is chard.